

Jay Lee
☎ +33 7 62 32 68 33
✉ iyongjae6@gmail.com
🌐 yongjailee.netlify.app

To
Hiring Committee,
OECD Centre for Population Dynamics

June 10, 2026

Sub: Application for Economist - Policy Analyst Position.

Dear Hiring Committee,

With great enthusiasm, I am writing to express my strong interest in the Economist - Policy Analyst position at the OECD. As an analytical and collaborative researcher, I am confident that my economics training and quantitative research background would allow me to contribute meaningfully to the Centre's policy analysis and drafting work.

As reflected in my resume, I have built relevant experience through OECD consulting work, as well as my studies in economics and policy-focused research. I am eager to apply my research, data analysis, and communication skills to support evidence-based analysis on cross-country policy issues.

As a prospective employee, I can immediately bring the following strengths to your team:

- Strong analytical skills: As a Research Assistant, I analyzed datasets and reviewed academic literature for major projects in politics and education. I managed data using SQL and Excel, collected information through Python-based web scraping from diverse online sources, and synthesized quantitative evidence and qualitative research into concise summary reports.
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively: In my role as a Data Analyst at the Institute for International Economic Studies, I independently analyzed data from 15,000 Swedish establishments using advanced statistical methods to strengthen research quality. At the same time, I worked closely with research teams to ensure data accuracy and consistency through careful collection and cleaning processes. This experience strengthened my ability to support reliable analysis, clear communication, and effective teamwork.

While my resume provides an overview of my background, I would welcome the opportunity to discuss in greater detail how my experience and motivation can support the OECD's policy analysis and knowledge dissemination work. I would be honored to contribute to the OECD's mission of building better policies for better lives.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the possibility of speaking with you further about this opportunity.

Sincerely,

Jay Lee