Sub: Application for Junior Policy Analyst – Evaluation.

Dear Hiring Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Junior Policy Analyst – Evaluation position at the OECD. With OECD experience, a background in economics and policy-related analysis, and training in data analysis and econometrics, I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to the In-depth Evaluation programme and support evidence-based assessment of OECD committees and programmes.

My experience aligns closely with the role's focus on data handling, reporting, and coordination. As an Intern Analyst at the OECD, I contributed to the management of the Health Care Quality and Outcomes database by validating and harmonizing large international datasets, analyzed healthcare indicators and statistical trends across OECD member states using econometric and statistical techniques, and assisted in drafting OECD health reports. Earlier, as a Research Assistant at the Institute for International Economic Studies, I analyzed data from Swedish firms, performed large-scale data collection and cleaning, and developed solutions for data management and statistical analysis issues.

As a prospective employee, I can immediately bring the following strengths to your team:

- Policy-relevant data analysis and reporting: My experience working with international datasets and OECD health reporting has strengthened my ability to translate complex quantitative evidence into clear narratives and visualizations. This would support the extraction, analysis, and presentation of evaluation data, as well as drafting and proofreading report sections.
- Database management and coordination: Through database building, validation, harmonization, and data cleaning across research roles, I have developed strong habits of accuracy and organization. I have also supported academic coordination by preparing assignments and class activities, supervising exams, and tracking records, which reflects the discipline needed to manage documentation and multiple workflows.

I would be excited to bring my analytical background, OECD experience, and commitment to careful, high-quality work to EVIA's evaluation activities. Thank you for your time and consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to the OECD's evaluation work and broader mission.

Sincerely,

Jay Lee
